Dear Mr. Ryan:

Your letter of December 2nd reached here several days ago but the registered package of coins reached here only this morning. None of your coins are rare and in fact have no premium value at all; the silver coins are worth only their silver value and not their face value. I should say the whole lot are worth only between 50¢ and 60¢.

We are returning the coins to you by parcel post insured. Please sent us stamps for the amount of the postage.

Very truly yours,

Curator
